

Acting as One for Babies:

A Dedicated Referral Pathway During Pregnancy and Infancy (0-2 years)

As a partnership between the Little Minds Matter: Bradford Infant Mental Health Service and the Specialist Early Attachment and Development Service (SEADs), we are launching a single point of access for practitioners or families concerned about any of the following:

- infant mental health
- parent-infant attachment and bonding
- concerns around bonding during pregnancy
- emotional regulation and behaviours
- infant development
- attachment trauma
- difficulties in the parent-infant relationship including where there is risk of or actual maltreatment.

Following referral, both services offer a range of support from consultation with professionals and parents/carers through to assessment and intervention. By working together, we can be sure infants and families reach the right team for their needs.
